Dear Sirs,

Re: Proposed new housing development – Loes Farm, Warwick

Firstly I would like to say that the first I heard of this proposal was in the Courier yesterday.

Coventry Road in Warwick is a busy road and from my own observations quite a few vehicles do not abide by the 40mph speed limit. To add even more traffic trying to enter and exit Coventry Road opposite the Saxon Mill seems rather reckless. I can imagine it causing more traffic problems and added frustration for drivers trying to get into Warwick during the morning rush hour when traffic is already backed up towards Kenilworth.

Warwick is supposed to be the County town of leafy Warwickshire, not the suburban sprawl of Leamington. There are already few services in the area and this proposal will only put added strain on an already 'creaking at the seams' environment.

Yours,
